Abri Hellmuth

Hip-Hop Dancer | South Africa

South African hip-hop dancer, Abri Hellmuth, received his second three year O-1 visa (agent-petitioner) in July 2017.

Thank you sooo much for all Your help. Definitely the best law firm in NYC. Jane and her team has always been available at all times. Been coming a long way with them and excellent service. Just renewed a three year O-1 and approval was so fast and so easy. I'm so grateful for your efficiency and professional manner of work in regards to my visa cases. Thanks!

"Definitely the best law firm in NYC."

Akina Shimizu

Hairstylist | Japan

Akina Shimizu, a hairstylist from Japan got her O-1 visa renewal approved just a month and a half later of its submission!

I went to Jane for my O-1 visa renewal because she had phenomenal reputations from my fellow artists in New York City! In this political climate where obtaining a visa is very difficult, Jane and her team handled my case very smoothly and I was able to get my visa approved quickly! Thank you so much Jane!

Alejandro Yoshii

Artist | Mexico

Alejandro Yoshii Kasuga is a Mexican-Japanese multidisciplinary artist, working with sculpture, painting and performance art. Mr. Yoshi did a change of status from F-1/OPT status to O-1 status. His application was approved in January 2016.

I am very grateful to Jane and her great team because, through their experience and diligent work, I obtained my O-1 visa. The process of preparing the application for the visa was very stressful.

I had very little time and many things to gather but since the beginning Jane was very clear about what I needed to gather, she guided me through the process, responding to my e-mails very quickly and precisely.

Alvaro Colom

Videographer | Spain

Spanish videographer, Alvaro Colom, recently received his third three year O-1 visa through our office. Alvaro has had an exciting and varied career and now concentrates on fashion film and photography.

After three times working with Jane Orgel and her wonderful team, I can only say it's my greatest pleasure to work with such attentive and resolutive group of people that make the whole process of a visa much easier and pleasant to deal with.

Alycia Burton

Horse Rider | New Zealand

Alycia Burton is a pioneering freestyle horse rider from New Zealand. She tours with her horses and teaches as well. Her O-1 visa was approved in September 2018 and she travelled to the US with her horses.

It was an incredibly daunting thought moving to the USA, I had already spoken to three different immigration lawyers by the time I had been referred to Jane Orgel and I was feeling more and more like my dream was slipping away. ....No one could really give me any solid answers on what visa to apply for or how to get it.

Jane and her team were amazing the whole way through, I put them under a lot of pressure time wise and they came through for me with an O1 Visa. I was able to move to the USA on time to peruse my dreams! Thanks Jane for your all of your help!

Anat Zuria

Filmmaker | Israel

In March 2016 we obtained an O-1B visa for Anat Zuria, an independent documentary filmmaker and director from Israel.

Zuria is a documentary filmmaker who focuses on the issues of gender, sexuality, and religion with in the Jewish community. Her work has been praised and recognized world-wide. She has presented her work at many prestigious film festivals, museums and university all around the world. Her films have been reviewed in the New York Times and her films have been screened in New York City's famous MoMA (Museum of Modern Art.)

She is best known for her films The Lesson, Black Bus, Sentenced to Marriage, and Purity. She has inspired many through her work and mentoring to continually "break the codes of silence."

Angelica Frey

Journalist & Writer | Italy

In June 2017, Italian writer, Angelica, had her change of status from F to O approved in two weeks using an agent as sponsor.

I am an art (and culture) writer who came to the U.S. four years ago on a F-1 for a master's program. When it was time for me to renew my visa, I had contacted a few lawyers. Among all, Jane was the only one who asked for my resume in order to give me a preliminary evaluation before even telling me what her fee was.

During our consultation, which lasted for a full hour, she answered every single question that I had and together, we devised a strategy that would, most likely, guarantee approval of my application. I had a lot of work to do, and Jane never sugarcoated that aspect: however, she never failed to encourage me. Until the very last day, she asked me for any possible document, demanding utmost precision on my end. What I got in return, though, was an excellent lawyer who always answered every question, doubt or straight-up paranoid rambling in a kind, professional and efficient manner.

We sent the application out in early June and it got swiftly approved in two weeks! Thank you Jane! Although it's always quite painful to go through immigration-related paperwork, having a no-nonsense and witty lawyer by your side makes a huge difference.

"I had a lot of work to do, and Jane never sugarcoated that aspect."

Anna Tsukervanik

Violinist | Uzbekistan

Violinist Anna Tsukervanik received her O-1 visa in June 2019. Anna holds a Doctor of Musical Arts from Stony Brook University, New York.

I have recently obtained my O-1 visa through Jane Orgel Immigration Law Firm and am now confidently looking forward to the new stage of my professional life in the United States. Obtaining your first O-1 can be an extremely challenging task and I am very grateful to Jane who offered no less than a top-class professional assessment of my documents package and guided me through the process in a very efficient manner. I very much appreciated the attention to details and organization applied to my case. I look forward to continue working with Jane Orgel Immigration Law Firm in the future."

Anne Gauthier

Drummer & Recording Engineer | Canada

Anne Gauthier is a professional drummer and recording engineer from Canada with over 15 years of recording and touring experience. She received an O-1 visa through this office in September 2015.

Jane and her team were knowledgeable, hard- working, fair, clear on what they needed from me along the way, and super quick to answer any questions I had during the process. I couldn't have asked for anything more. They also masterfully rose above a late RFE. I would recommend them to anyone who needed an artist visa.

"I couldn't have asked for anything more."

Atsushi Eda

Dancer | Japan

In April of 2016, Jane obtained an O-1 visa for Atsushi Eda, a Japanese Dancer. Mr. Eda did a changed of status from F-1/OPT to O-1. He is one of the leading performers in Japan, having starred in theme park performances, television shows, and theatrical musicals.

Bozhanka Vitanova

Social Entrepreneur & Researcher | Macedonia

Bozhanka Vitanova is a social entrepreneur and researcher from Macedonia. We filed her O-1A application in January 2019 and it was approved in 18 days with regular (non-premium) processing. Bozhanka received an MA in International Economics and Finance from Brandeis University in 2016.

Jane offered excellent guidance throughout the whole process of obtaining my first O-1 visa. From the very beginning, Jane was extremely helpful in demystifying the initially confusing application process. She assessed my case and was able to direct me to gaps I needed to work on in order to qualify for an O-1. More than just legal support, Jane's guidance helped me identify the right professional activities that made my O-1 case much stronger.

Jane and her team were always available to answer my questions and point me in the right direction. Overall, Jane is able to make the complex application process relatively simple and straightforward, providing "step-by-step" guidelines around what is needed to put together a strong application. If Jane decides to take on your case and you follow her advice and directions, you can be certain of a positive outcome.

Brock Hayhoe

Drag Artist | Canada

Canadian drag artist, Brock Hayhoe, had his EB-1 (Extraordinary Ability) application approved in just 10 days in December 2015. Brock started out his career as a ballet dancer with Cape Town City Ballet in September 2006 where he quickly became a favorite among ballet goers. In May 2007 he was promoted to a soloist. In 2008, he was awarded a leading role as a Principal Dancer with Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo, and he traveled the world with the troupe, performing at some of most prestigious dance stages in Europe, the US and Asia. In 2012, he left the troupe to become a drag artist by the name of "Brooke Lynn Hytes."

Utilizing his ballet skills to make an impression on judges in the drag competitions, he very quickly made a name for himself and in 2014, he won Miss Continental, one of the most famous and coveted prizes in the field. Brock was on an O-1 visa obtained through our office.

Yes! Amazing. Thank you so much for everything!

Chang Wei Chiang

Interior Designer | Taiwan

Chiang Wei Chang received an Associate's degree in Interior Design from the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York in 2017. His O-1 visa was filed in April 2019 and approved in May 2019 using regular processing.

This is my first time working with Jane, who helped me get my first O-1 visa approved. Jane's lawyer fee is very expensive, but she is no doubt the best of the best in terms of immigration knowledge. Unlike other immigration lawyers, Jane gave me couple options and routes after the consultation and analyzed which route best works for my case. Eventually I chose to apply for O-1 visa and Jane and her team guided me through all the process and make it easier for me.

I've heard some failed cases from my peer groups when they worked with their lawyer to apply O-1 visa. None of them happened when I worked with Jane. She gave me important suggestions, do this, don't do that, and etc. Eventually it all turned out she was right on everything. I would definitely keep working with Jane for my future immigration cases.

Jane and her team are among the most professional and they're extremely good at what they do. If you think your case is tough and you're looking for someone who can successfully get you a visa to stay in US. Jane is the one hands down.

"I've heard some failed cases from my peer groups when they worked with their lawyer to apply O-1 visa. None of them happened when I worked with Jane."

Chia-Lun Chang

Poet, Writer & Editor | Taiwan

Chia-Lun Chang is a Taiwanese, Poet, Writer and Editor. She transitioned from F-1/OPT status to O-1 status in January 2016. Chia-Lun is most extraordinary for being a Chinese-speaking individual who has only lived in the US for a short period of time and yet writes acclaimed poetry in English.

Jane was recommended to me through a friend who also had her O-1 approved. From the beginning, Jane was realistic with me about the possibility of having an O-1 visa approved, especially since I had just graduated and was on my OPT, but she also offered creative ideas that were specific to my vocation so I could build my portfolio and evidence to make a compelling case. Working on my O-1 was not just an opportunity to be awarded a US visa, it also gave me the opportunity to build on my portfolio and contacts, and Jane's office gave me the resources to do that. Her office worked very hard on my case, communicating and checking in with me on a regular basis.

By the time my case was submitted, I felt much more confident about my achievements as a poet and at my chances of having the case approved. My case was approved the first time around within two months and I feel I owe that to Jane for her careful, thorough, and creative planning in submitting my O-1 application.

"(Jane) offered creative ideas that were specific to my vocation so I could build my portfolio and evidence to make a compelling case."

Chieh Hsiung

Freelance Artist | Taiwan

In October 2019, Chieh Hsiung's dream finally came through after a rather protracted struggle.

My name is Chieh Hsiung, and I am a freelance art worker. My mainly work is dancing, choreography, and teaching in New York. Since I was a little girl, my dream has always been standing on the stage of New York and show my performance to the whole world. Thanks Jane and her team for making my dream come true.

When I consulted with Jane for the first time, I brought a lot of files and I was very confused. However, during the consultation meeting, I gradually noticed Jane's decisive personality. She guided me to the right direction and help me realize what I should do next. Her confidence made me be willing to take a gamble on my future with her without any hesitation.

During the process, she always gave me the most accurate and efficient responses, so that I can complete my case in the most effective way. For my first application, some unavoidable obstacles happen, I didn't get my visa. But we tried again in 2019. Jane and her team were very patient by helping me figure out the best countermeasures for my case. Thanks to them, I got my O-1 visa successfully this time!

In the future, I will put my dreams into practice, thanks Jane and her team for being so patient and attentive.

Christina Son

Eyelash Artist | Canada

Canadian eyelash artist, Ga Young "Christina" Son, received a tough Request for Evidence on her case, which was handled by another attorney. Our office advised Ms. Son on how to bolster certain areas of the application which were targeted in the RFE, in particular the claim by the Immigration Service that she did not have solid employment lined up. In November 2016, Ms. Son's case was approved.

My experience with Jane is rather different than mostly others. I didn't start my O1 process with Jane. I was already working with another lawyer on my file and I reached out to Jane for her assistance. My visa process was beyond emotionally frustrating as I have been trying to get it for approximately 4 years. My case was very challenging. I am a lash artist and I was told by many lawyers that I had very little hope mostly because my field is too specialized and I have worked with lawyers in the past who gave up on me. My experience overall was very discouraging. I was on the verge of giving up. Jane gave me her advice and recommendations and helped me prepare a couple of documents.

I finally got an approved O1 visa and I know that those documents Jane helped me prepare and her recommendations played crucial role in getting me my O1 visa. She is a highly respected expert with wealth of knowledge in this field. There are no words to express my gratitude and I can't thank her enough. Jane is incredibly detail oriented and sharp and you will immediately recognize it. She is all about detail and precise work. Even though we didn't work together from the start, I can assure you she cares about her clients and their outcome. Jane was not obligated to continue speaking with me after her assistance but she continued to check up on me to see how things were and she was the first person to congratulate me on my visa approval. I found out about my visa approval from Jane. I was really touched that she kept me in her mind and went above and beyond to check up on my status and as soon as I saw that "Congratulations!!!" on the subject line of my email, I was in complete disbelief and literally broke down in tears. I trust her work and guidance wholeheartedly. I will continue using her services and strongly recommend her to anyone looking for an O1 expert."

Coco Piesse

Model | Australia

Australian model Coco Piesse received her O-1 visa in April 2017. Coco will serve as Brand Ambassador for a US designer label.

Jane and her team were prolific in helping me to follow my dreams and attain an 01. Their persistence, patience and ongoing support allowed my case to go through with ease and assurance. I couldn't be happier.

Daniel Sandino Concepcion

Technical Fashion Designer | Philippines

Daniel filed for change of status. His case was received on July 19, 2017 and approved on July 27, 2017.

It was a great experience working with Jane. I was an international student employed during my OPT when I approached her. We went through my experiences in design together, and she put together my case and facilitated the process smoothly.

A couple of weeks after filing, I received my approval. I was so concerned that I wouldn't get it as the current socio-political seemed to be against me so I was tremendously relieved and overjoyed when I got the letter. If not for Jane, who believed in me and fought for this case, I do not know how I would have gotten my O-1.

> "If not for Jane, who believed in me and fought for this case, I do not know how I would have gotten my O-1."

Despo Thoma

Urban Designer | Cyprus

Cypriot urban designer, Despo Thoma, received her O-1 approval in July 2017. Her case was approved in two weeks using regular processing.

During the very stressful and nerve wracking period of an immigration process, I'm glad I've turn to Jane Orgel's law firm – a firm with an outstanding track record and duty of care towards its clients – where I found the honesty and guidance I needed to understand and file a successful petition for an O-1 visa. I hired Jane Orgel to obtain my first O-1 visa this year, and the service, attention and guidance I received was fantastic.

Jane and her team conducted my case with the upmost professionalism, detail and really understood what was required in order for me to receive O-1 status. Jane was always there to answer any questions I might had, explain the initially confusing processes, and indicate critical areas that I had to work on in order to compile a strong case. I trusted that Jane would answer my emails immediately and that her team would pay attention to every detail of my case.

The process was smooth sailing, I was guided every step of the way, and felt like I was working with a lawyer who sincerely cared about me and my case. Inevitably, the work of Jane and her team led to a successful result, obtaining my O-1 status without an RFE!

"The process was smooth sailing, I was guided every step of the way."

Dichen Ding

Architectural Designer | China

Chinese Architectural Designer, Dichen Ding, a graduate of Columbia University Graduate School of Architecture, Planning & Preservation, had her O-1 visa approved in October 2015.

Jane was recommended to me by a friend who had a wonderful experience with her as well the previous year. It was great working with Jane and her office. My case was definitely challenging and needed a lot of work. Unlike some lawyers that either make promises or reject your case without taking a closer look, Jane was strict and honest about my chances and about how much effort we needed to put in the case from the very beginning.

She gave me confidence that a positive outcome was realistic and guided me. During the preparation process, Jane was very creative and supportive. Her team was also very efficient and responsive, which allowed me to put together a really detailed case in a relatively short time. More importantly, when I got too anxious about my case and wanted to speed up things, Jane was cautious and patient. She analyzed the situation according to her experience and paced my application strategically, which led to a straight approval.

I'm very grateful to Jane and her office. Many many thanks to everyone on the team. I'm really glad that I went with her for my application for the O-1 visa because I'm sure I couldn't have done it without her. I'd strongly recommend Jane to anyone who is looking for a lawyer for an O visa because you will need a lawyer that's smart and creative, strict and experienced, and, most importantly, supportive of you throughout the application process.

Diego Velazquez

Wedding & Arts Photographer | Venezuela

Venezuelan wedding and arts photographer, Diego Velazquez, had his O-1 application approved in less than four (4) weeks using standard processing at the Vermont Service Center.

Diego's case was filed on November 23 2016 and approved on December 19, 2016. This was a challenging case as wedding photographers do not receive much press and credits, however detailed testimonials and an extensive portfolio were used instead.

In the process of finding the right lawyer to obtain an O-1 visa, I was able to get interviews with several professionals in the field, who did not show enough interest in my case and did not give me much confidence, until a friend who had her O-1 visa approved recommended I should talk to Jane Orgel about my case.

Jane was very realistic from the beginning about the weaknesses of my case, but worked hard to strengthen it more and more. She responded very quickly to the mails, regardless of the time, and was very detailed and creative on filling the case. In my opinión, it was a long and exhausting process, but thanks to Jane and her team, I was able to have a solid guide on what to do, and when I summited my application, I felt more confident of its approval. In just four weeks, I received an email from Jane sharing the good news that my visa was approved. I definitely recommend Jane Orgel for this type of visas, and I am totally grateful to God for putting her in my way.

"Jane was very realistic from the beginning about the strength of my case, but worked hard to stregthen it more and more."

Donghyun Kim

Architect | Korea

In March 2014, Donghyun Kim, a native of Korea, who received a Master of Architecture degree from Cornell University, received his O-1 visa. Mr. Kim was a winner of the 2013 International Architectural Thesis Award in the Residential Category.

Dongil Kim

Architectural Engineer | South Korea

Dongil Kim, a citizen and national of South Korea, received a Bachelor's degree in Architectural Engineering from Kyung Hee University in Suwon, Korea in 2009.

Dongil Kim established the DAKHU Studio design and research lab under the auspices of Kyung Hee University's Department of Architecture, and through the studio, won multiple prestigious regional, national and international awards including the extraordinary solar-powered design for the Taipei Pop Music Center International Competition in 2009, which was featured by CNN.com and designboom.com, and "Hydroscape City" for the Magok Waterfront International Competition.

Mr. Kim has distinguished himself through his receipt of major awards, press reviews and by working for leading Korean architectural design firms, Samoo Architecture and KOMA Architects. Additionally, Mr. Kim has exhibited his work nationally and internationally and has had his work published in leading Korean journals.

Dura Jun

Musician | Korea

Korean Pianist and Instructor at the Manhattan School of Music, Dura Jun, finally received notification that her Green Card will be issued this week. Dura was approved for a National Interest Waiver Green Card (self-petition) in June 2018 and her Adjustment Interview at the New York District Office in December 2018.

Finding a skillful, well-knowledged and experienced lawyer would be much easier these days. But on top of those qualities, someone who truely cares about your success, what you do and is willing to make even deeper relationship with their clients are very rare to be seen.

I met quite a bit of lawyers before I chose to go with Ms. Jane Orgel to decide who can be the most helpful for my Green Card process, they were brilliantly successful and tremendously accomplished lawyers but I didnt feel their willingness to be connected to me and wanting to help me out at their best way and to be worsen I got rejected a couple of times from them as well. It was very stressful and frustrating period of time for me and I was losing hope to be able to stay in USA and to keep pursuing what I love to do and then I met Ms. Jane Orgel. At our consulting meeting she went through all my materials and deeply saw through for a while, while I was waiting what she would say to me nervously, and then she gave me a MAGICAL suggestion, which I never heard of, that is called "National Interest Waver Green Card".

I am a musician and I was holding O1 visa at that time so I was thinking to apply for EB1 as at that time I was having a hard time to find a sponsorship so I had no choice but self-sponsorship case which I believe is called EB1. But I wasnt qualified enough for that category, how frustrating! But Ms. Jane Orgel didnt give up on me but found this most fantastic solution ever and while I was being skeptical and uncertain about this "National Interest Waver Green Card" process, she was holding my hands and kept pushing me to go through this whole wildly long process with me. Also I had a major drama in my family, my father in Korea was getting sick deeply so I was almost giving up my career and deciding to go back to Korea but she made me stay here giving me endless hopes and encouragements while always asking about my family because she knew how much I wanted to have Green Card and my parents want me to stay here and be successful. My father now is much stable thankfully he wont be as the same person as before though but we as a family have passed the stage of panicking out of his changes and seeing him not being able to do what he used to be able to do. We accepted him fully now and we just love him one simple fact of still living with us. That is enough for us.

Because of Trump government, immigration laws have been stormed out consistently and because of that I was very scared if I might get disadvantaged from it. But because Ms. Jane Orgel worked nights and days very hard and always was on top of everything I could get my Green Card in 2 years !! normally it takes 1.5 years if all goes smoothly but since these days immigration visa process has been totally slowed down and hardened so much I expected it could take up to 3 years actually. On that note, I truely deeply appreciate Ms. Jane Orgel's hard work for my case and other clients' as well and I can't thank enough for her almost mothership-like caring.

I highly highly recommend Ms. Jane Orgel to be your lawyer, especially for Green Card process. She will not let you down!

Elle-May Patterson

Musical Theatre Performaer | Australia

We recently obtained an O-1B visa for Australian musical theatre performer, Elle-May Patterson. Elle-May started training in the performing arts at the age of 4 at Brent Street Studios in Sydney, Australia.

She then obtained a Bachelor's degree in Musical Theatre in Singapore and pursued a career in all facets of live theatre, both internationally and in Australia. She has performed on "Australian Idol," The Disney Channel, "Australia's Got Talent," Channel 7 Network, The Kerrie-Ann Show and many more.

She was recently the Assistant Choreographer to the renowned duo, 'The Squared Division,' for the first season of Asia's Got Talent. Her stage credits include The Sydney season of "Showboat," "Cabaret," Nickelodeon Kids Choice Awards and MTV Video Music Awards.

At the age of 7, I saw my first musical production in Sydney, Australia. I think it was that moment changed my life forever. I wanted, so much, to be on Broadway. My journey from then to now has been a combination of thousands of hours in dance and music studios, with a WHOLE lot of blood, sweat, tears, AND money (thanks Mum & Dad!), but also some of the most cherished memories I have as an adult. I've been so lucky to have such a supportive group of family and friends around me, even through all the sacrifices I've made to get to where I am now.

While living overseas and studying at an international musical theatre school, I was passed Jane Orgel's contact by a fellow alumni who also planned to move to the Big Apple to follow her dreams. From the moment Jane and I were in contact, I knew I had made the right decision and was half way to making those dreams a reality. The 0-1 visa application, for EVERYONE involved, is an excruciating process, and while working full- time as a performer throughout Asia, Jane and I gradually and meticulously put together a portfolio that was an exceptional representation of my professional career over the last 15 years. Her personable and accessible nature, sharp attention to detail, regular correspondence and her team's cohesive and professional conduct gave me so much confidence in my application process and the final product that was set to transform the next chapter of my life and career.

I've now been living here in the United States for almost a month as an official 0-1 visa holder, and have my first performance job coming up this weekend. It has been a thrilling process (in all senses of the word), that I could and would not have achieved with Jane Orgel and her team.

Eriko Isaku

Dancer & Choreographer | Japan

Eriko Iisaku is a Japanese dancer and choreographer who has danced at the legendary Jacob's Pillow Dance, American Dance Festival, Met Museum, and Brooklyn Academy of Music (BAM). In April 2017, our office obtained a third three year O-1 for Ms. Iisaku. The case was approved in ten (10) days without using Premium Processing.

Thank you once again to Jane and her efficient office for obtaining my third O-1 visa without an RFE! I have always been so grateful for your dedication to my case and your efficiency in handling my materials. I could not have asked for a better immigration lawyer.

Fernando Salazar

Dancer | Mexico

Mexican dancer, Fernando Salazar, was in the US on a student visa. His case was approved in four weeks using standard processing.

I had visited many lawyers before Jane that were making me lose hope on my case. My nationality during this election year was always the main concern for them. Since the first appointment with Jane Orgel my perspective changed. She listened and said my story was very unique and showed her support and excitement for my challenging case. Jane and her team were constantly in contact with me while helping and encouraging me throughout the process.

It only took four weeks to receive the Approval Notice of my O-1 Visa after my papers were filed. Jane Orgel and her team are the most professional lawyers I have ever met. I fully recommend them and will continue to use her services as needed. It was such a pleasure to do the O-1 visa process with her and her team. Now, I finally can work as a dancer in New York City. Thank you to Jane Orgel. I still can't express my gratitude enough for your exceptional work and extraordinary care following one of the most important decisions of my life. Thank you!!!

> "(Jane) listened and said my story was very unique and showed her support and excitement for my challenging case."

Haowen Li

Art Critic & Writer | China

Chinese art critic and writer, Haowen Li, received her visa at the US Consulate in Beijing in February 2017. Haowen received an MA in Art History & Museum Studies from Georgetown University in August 2015.

I couldn't express how grateful I am to Jane and her team. I'm an art critic and a specialist in Chinese antiques, based in New York. I got my O-1 visa approval through Jane's office, and it was a fast straight approval (within two weeks from we submitted).

I was introduced to several immigration lawyers, but when I met Jane and had discussed my case with her, I decided to hire her as my lawyer without hesitation. I was impressed by her professionalism, honesty, rigorousness and how precisely she understood my case. During the first meeting, Jane was very honest about my case, and offered different approaches which really broadened my mind and made me confident. She knew exactly what I needed and crafted my case based on my experiences.

Throughout the whole process, Jane offered very clear instructions, always responded to my concerns promptly, and kept me informed of every updates. It could be stressful and uncertain to go through the visa application process, but with Jane's help, I felt confident and at ease. I trust Jane and her team's professionalism and experiences and look forward to working with Jane again.

"With Jane's help, I felt confident and at ease"

Hildegun Nilsson Varhelyi

Landscape Artist & Academic | Sweden

Swedish landscape architect and academic, Hildegun Nilsson Varhelyi, received her O-1 visa in January 2019. It was approved in 17 days using standard, non-premium, processing.

I was in the US on an O3-visa and was offered a teaching position. My lawyer advised me that the chances of obtaining an O1-visa were non-existent. After some research I found Jane, who was more optimistic, and I decided to give it a try. Jane and her team were meticulous when putting together the petition. Response time is quick and the support from Jane and her team remarkable. It was a lot of work but in hindsight totally worth it. Thank you Jane!"

"Response time is quick and the support from Jane and her team is remarkable."

Hyungjo Moon

Freelance Artist | South Korea

Hyungjo Moon, Photographer, received a BFA in Photography from Chung-Ang University, Seoul, in 2014 and an MFA in Advanced Photo Studies from Bard College in 2017. He applied for change of status from F to O-1 in September 2018 and got his O-1 visa stamp at the US Consulate in Korea in December 2018.

As an artist, I was difficult to choose the lawyer who really cares about O-1 visa process. I have heard many other lawyers' stories with my friends so that I was careful to choose the lawyer who can work with but also I can trust. Through the whole visa preparation process, Jane supported me in many ways. She provided me with useful advice when I questioned about certain matters. She responded quickly with possible solutions and was responsible for all details in my process. She knew about how artists are making a living and working so she could understand personal cases perfectly. This helped me a lot when I need more documentation process and time. She gave me some pressure through the early process and at the end, I thought this pressure was very effective for the credibility to the case.

My visa was approved after 10 days from the submission. I interviewed at the embassy and required more documents. She prepared the required document shortly and I could have a visa stamp on passport. Jane is a professional lawyer for the O-1 visa. I can recommend her for anyone who are preparing for it.

Ianthe Mellors

Hip-Hop Dancer & Teaching Artist | Great Britain

British hip-hop dancer and teaching artist, Ianthe Mellors, received her second O-1 through our office in March 2019.

Jane and her team were incredible. It is no wonder they have such a high success rate. They are really thorough and made sure I knew everything I needed to do in order to prepare my portfolio. They also made the entire process as stress-free as possible by printing it and organising it for me. Once my application had been submitted they were great at communicating the process and advising me on next steps. Jane's office have handled two successful O1 performance visa applications for me. I really can't recommend them enough.

I had a lot of initial consultations with lawyers before deciding to work with Jane and her office. They were so thorough and clear when evaluating my case. It was obvious they cared about my case and would really champion me.

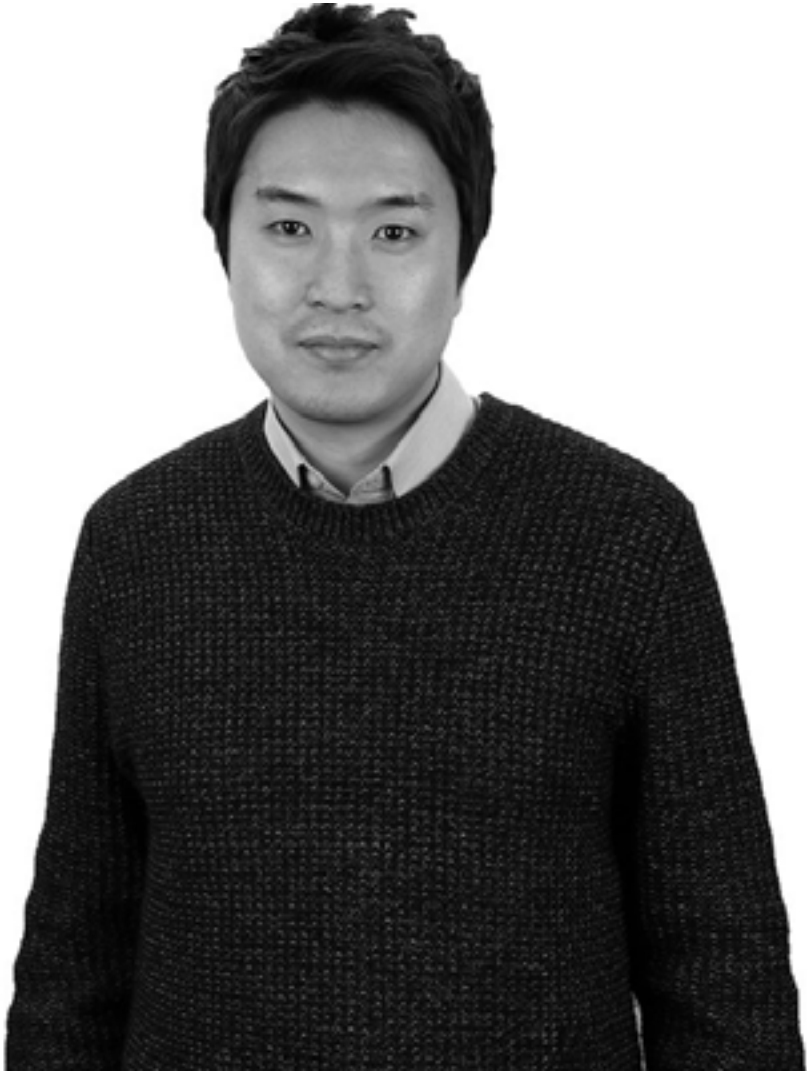

Jaebong Jeon

Architectural Designer | Korea

Korean architectural designer, Jaebong Jeon, received his O-1 in September 2016. He was sponsored by noted architecture firm, Populous. His O-1 was approved within 15 days with the Premium Processing service in September 2016. He applied for a change of status from his student visa (OPT).

I am most grateful to Jane and her team for their swift work on my O-1 visa. I was an architecture student on F-1 (OPT) working as an architectural designer at Populous, an international architectural design and planning firm that has designed more than 2,000 projects worth $40 billion over the past 30 years.

I was not selected in the H-1B lottery and had just a few months to gather evidence for an O-1 application and have it approved on time to continue work with Populous. Jane gave me the tools to prepare the evidence and portfolio, and she created a thorough and convincing application for USCIS. My application was approved in less than 15 days thanks to Jane and her excellent team.

James (Jihad) Kawas

Entrepreneur | Lebanon

Lebanese entrepreneur James (Jihad) Kawas had the O1-A visa for his start-up, approved in February 2020 in a matter of days, using the Premium Processing service.

There are great lawyers, A-class lawyers, and then there's Jane Orgel. Jane is undoubtedly the best O1 immigration attorney in the US. Before finding Jane, many top lawyers that appear on the first page of Google said they can't win my case, but Jane knew exactly how to get it and indeed she got me not one but 2 O1-A approvals.

She first got me an O1 sponsored by a big firm that had hired me as a Product Manager, and she then secured the second one for me as an entrepreneur sponsored by my own startup (www.joinflyp.com). She also got two O1s for my business partner as well. 4 out of 4, perfect score.

Jane is a perfectionist and she knows the nitty gritty of what the officer reviewing your application needs to see, she doesn't let anything slip through. Jane and her team have always been available and reachable by email and Skype, ready to answer any questions and advise on all related matters even on weekends. If you get the chance to hire Jane for your O1, know that you're in good hands. Follow her instructions, provide her with the documents she recommends, and you will get your O-1.

Jessie Yoon

Designer | Korea

Korean designer Jessie Yoon, received two three year O-1 visas through our office, in 2014 and 2017.

For past 12 years, I have filed 7 visa applications and 1 green card application. As a foreigner who stays in U.S. for the long term, applying and renewing visa every several years is an unwelcoming issue. I have worked with several attorneys during my 8 applications. During that time, I have been denied my visa with a ridiculous reason and also got denial of the green card application. Thus, I know how important it is to find a reliable attorney who I can trust. I met Jane a few years ago through my current business partner. Jane prepared my O-1 case twice and both cases were approved in a short time.

When I applied for my most recent O-1 visa, the situation was not easy; I got denial of the previous green card application only 6 months ago and I was not even in U.S. With Jane's detailed preparation and her proficiency, I successfully received my O-1 visa only in 2 weeks. I am going to apply for my green card again in the near future. I believe that with Jane, I can get the result I want."

Ji Shi

Architectural Designer | China

Chinese architectural designer Ji Shi, who holds an MArch from Princeton University, was approved in two days with standard (non-expedite) processing.

Jane and her team guided me with great expertise through the O-1 process. I filed an agent case using one of her agents as I wanted to work as an independent contractor for different companies. it took time to prepare the materials and provide the level of detail and evidence needed but ultimately it was worth it because I got a quick three year approval using regular (non-expedite) processing. The case was filed on August 7 and approved on August 9. I got my visa stamped at the US Consulate in Beijing without any problem."

Ji Young Chung

Lighting Designer | Korea

Ji Young Chung graduated with a BFA in Lighting Design from SUNY Purchase in 2016. Most of her case was based upon work done during her program and during the Optional Practical Training. Her change of status from F to O was approved in July 2017. The case was approved in three weeks using regular processing.

I'd like to give my sincere compliments and gratitude to Jane Orgel and her staff for their invaluable support in obtaining a very urgent O-1 visa. I was very nervous through the whole process because of my urgent timeline, they provided prompt and efficient updates via phone and email and was always the voice of calm and reason during a very stressful time for me. It was such a pleasure to call and talk directly with a human and not have to cycle through automated systems.

They went above and beyond my expectation to assist with completing the application and ensuring that all of the information was correct. Without their incredible support of many, I would not have been granted. Thank you so much again!

Joanna Della-Ragione

Journalist | Great Britain

In March 2016, our office obtained an O-1B visa for British journalist, Joanna Della-Ragione, who is working on a self-employed basis. Joanna Della-Ragione has published numerous articles in world's leading newspapers and magazines, including CBS Watch! The Daily Express, The Daily Mail UK, and London Evening Standard.

Joyce Ho

Motion Graphic Artist | Australia

Australian motion graphic artist, Joyce Ho, received a three O-1 visa in October 2016 through our office. Joyce was employed by a studio in Australia and all the work was done remotely while she was based in Australia. Joyce will be working on an independent contractor basis in the US for various companies that have extended contracts to her.

Jane was instrumental in helping me obtain my O1 visa and came highly recommended through a Sydney law firm. She offered open and honest advice regarding my case and strategized the best way to obtain the visa I wanted. She always took the time to explain the often very arduous and complicated process to me when I had questions.

Throughout the lengthy process, Jane answered my emails extremely quickly and I could tell it was her number one priority to make sure my documentation and case was as strong as it could possibly be. My case was approved the first time round thanks to Jane and her team!

Judy Chapman

Spa & Wellness Writer/Consultant | Australia

Australian spa and wellness writer/consultant, Judy Chapman, had her first O-1 visa application (agent case) approved in five days in June 2017 via regular non-expedite processing. Judy is the author of multiple articles and several books in the field.

A big thank you for your guidance, support and nurture during the process of my 0-1 visa application. You were all very patient with me!

For anyone working in the arts and seeking to hire an Immigration lawyer to help obtain a working visa, then I highly recommend Jane Orgel's services. The visa application process is very detailed and for someone like myself, I benefited enormously from the assistance from Jane Orgel and her team. They were very meticulous, quick to get back to me whenever I had any questions, and very detailed. Right up until the final interview, they were extremely supportive. No stone was left unturned. I'm happy to conclude that my application was successful and I'll be soon on my way to New York for my next adventure. Thanks guys!

Julian Uribe

Architect | Colombia

Colombian architect, Julian Uribe, received his Master of Architecture degree from Rhode Island School of Design in 2015. He filed for a change of status from F-1 to O-1 through our office. Julian was sponsored by a small architecture studio in Brooklyn. His case was filed on August 19, 2016 and approved in November 3, 2016 using standard processing.

After meeting with other lawyers who were not supportive or willing to take a look at my case for the O-1 visa, a friend, that had her O-1 approved, suggested I talk to Jane about my case. Jane was very honest and encouraging from the beginning. The case demanded a lot of work from both parties; despite having little time to prepare all my documents, the process was made straight-forward with Jane's guidance, support, interest and meticulousness in how the information was presented.

Her professionalism gave me confidence in having a positive outcome for my application. I feel very grateful to have had the opportunity of working with Jane and her team in my case and getting the O-1 visa approved.

"Despite having little time to prepare all my documents, the process was made straight-forward."

Juliana Pessoa

Wedding Photographer | Brazil

Brazilian wedding photographer Juliana Pessoa obtained her O-1 visa in March 2019.

I am so glad that my friend recommended me Jane when I was looking for an attorney. She delivers what she promises and more.

I can say that without a doubt, working with Jane and her team was an incredible experience and I look forward to keep working with her in our future green card. The 01 visa is very demanding and having Jane and her team by our side all the way helping us with the evidence and the paperwork was priceless. There are so many variables in the process and Jane and her team were always there to answer our questions and help us in whatever we needed.

We got our visa approved in 1 month after she filed it. If you are thinking about 01 visa, I can say that Jane is the best option for you. She is straight forward, no fuss and she knows her business."

Julie Khim Tewes (Julie Myrtille) & Melanie Khim Tewes

Pastry Chefs | France

In March 2020, French pastry chef, Julie Khim Tewes ("Julie Myrtille") and her sister and manager, Melanie Khim Tewes, received three-year renewals of their O-1 and O-2 visas in just seven days through Artists & Entrepeneurs Inc. Entrepreneurs Julie and Melanie run their own pastry store in Austin, Texas and create a whole line of pastries, condiments and cooked foods which are sold through the Julie Myrtille Bakery. We were thrilled to get their initial O-1 and O-2 visas three years ago and even more thrilled now that their dream has become a reality.

We first started our cases with another attorney who made so many mistakes on our cases that we ended up totally lost. I was referred to Jane Orgel to take care of our Visa. I immediately saw the difference she had a clear strategy in mind, explained and guided us in every step of the process. We got our O-1 and O-2 visa in a very quick time frame.

After this successful result, we chose her again for our O-1 and O-2 visa renewal. Again, O-1 and O-2 visa renewal process was smooth and swiftly approved! I highly recommend Jane Orgel (I have had 4 visa cases approved: O-1 and O-2, then O-1 and O-2 renewal) and I would hire her again and would not choose anyone else. She is the best and you can choose her with complete confidence!

> "I would hire her again and would not choose anyone else."

Jun Deng

Architectural Designer | China

Chinese architectural designer, Jun Deng, received his O-1 Approval in February 2017. It was approved in ten days using standard processing. Jun received a Master of Architecture from Rice University in 2015 and completed a year of Optional Practical Training (OPT) before starting the O-1 process. He was sponsored by a small architectural studio in New York City.

I'd like to thank many people, including me school professors, previous and current employers, and friends, who have helped me during this application process. Specially, Jane and her team were critical for the receiving of this visa! I was not 100% sure at the start of the application, but Jane offered me important assistance to build up my materials and confidence.

I appreciate her patience and dedication to my case, which are important for a marathon-like petition process. I also appreciate the very organized goals she set for me, which were challenging but achievable. The amount of work Jane and her team spent on putting up my materials, which are really well organized and clear, definitely played a crucial role for the approval of my case.

Kate Morgan

PR Beauty Consultant | Great Britain

British PR beauty consultant, Kate Morgan, received her first three O-1 approval as a self-employed beauty and cosmetics consultant and PR specialist in December 2013.

She received her second three -year approval on the same basis, through a U.S. agent, in December 2016.

Going through an immigration process is stressful, nerve wracking and a dive into the 'unknown'— which is why hiring a law firm with an outstanding track record and duty of care towards its clients, is essential.

I hired Jane Orgel to obtain my first 0-1 visa four years ago, and the service I received (and result re: success!) was fantastic; Jane and her team conducted my case with the upmost professionalism, detail and really understood what was required in order for me to receive 0-1 status. I needed to renew my 0-1 Visa January 2016, and I did not hesitate to work with Jane and her team again. Once again, success! The process was smooth sailing, I was guided every step of the way, and felt like I was working with a lawyer who sincerely cared about me and my case.

I will be going for my green card next year, and Jane will without a doubt be my trusted go-to for that process.

"I will be going for my green card next year, and Jane will without a doubt be my trusted go-to for that process."

Katy Lee

Creative Director & Jewelry Designer | Taiwan

Our client Katy Lee, the Creative Director and Designer at the brand recently obtained her Green Card, approved through National Interest Waiver! Below is her testimonial and translated in Japanese and Chinese.

Jane obtained several O-1 visas for me as jewelry designer and creative director and then, this year, I was approved for a National Interest Waiver Green Card based on my entrepreneurial and creative skills in building up my jewelry company, Gold Philosophy. I am so thrilled! Jane and her staff did a great job with my O-1 visas and my Green Card. Their strategy was spot on!

Katya Grokhovsky

Visual Artist & Curator | Australia

We handled Katya's initial O-1 application after she graduated from School of The Art Institute of Chicago with an MFA in sculpture in 2011. Whilst on OPT (Optional Practical Training), Katya enlisted our guidance as to how to prepare for a successful O-1 application. Her initial O-1 was approved in August 2012 for a three year period.

We renewed her O-1 visa on a three year basis until filing an Extraordinary Ability Green Card application for her in 2018. This was approved within 9 months with regular processing.

It has been a great pleasure working with Jane Orgel over the last 8 years of my career in the US, and I can't possibly imagine where I would be without her Law Firm today. She has provided guidance, meticulous attention to detail and impeccable professional attitude all along our journey together; from securing several O-1s to an approval of my EB-1.

As an artist, my path is often unclear and rocky and Jane understood the specifics of my industry, my individual cases, my work and my aspirations. She never implied it was going to be easy or quick, and she was there through every painstaking step of the way, had confidence in me, answered my inquires and gave timely advice. I highly recommend her services to any international artist or creative professional."

Keir Wenham-Flatt

Strength & Conditioning Coach | Great Britain

Keir applied through an agent and will work as an independent contractor. His case was received by the Immigration Service on November 21, 2017 and approved on December 6, 2017.

Working with Jane and her team was a smooth and professional experience from beginning to end. Whatever questions I had, she was always on hand to answer them and guide me through the steps to obtaining an O1 visa with as little stress as possible.

Mine was not a simple case: I had many different offers of work, for a variety of projects, with several different employers. But Jane made a potentially complex application a lot simpler and more manageable, from making sure I fulfilled the O1 criteria, gathering the supporting documents, and submitting all the necessary paperwork.

If you are considering applying for an O1 visa, I cannot recommend her highly enough. Her advice and guidance has been worth every penny. Thank you, Jane & Team.

> “Jane made a potentially complex application a lot simpler and more manageable.”

Keita Watanabe

Hair Stylist | Japan

Japanese hair stylist, Keita Watanabe, had his third three year O-1 visa approved in a matter of days with standard processing. The case was filed on January 11, 2017 and approved on January 18, 2007.

I currently reside in NY and work as a hairstylist. I first met Jane about seven years ago, when I was applying for an O-1 visa from Japan. The Japanese assistants working at her office made me feel at ease and I never experienced any language barrier. I was able to get valuable advice from Jane and with her assistance I was able to successfully obtain my visa. Since my initial visa was approved, she has also made it possible for me to renew my visa twice.

There is always a consultation before proceeding with each case, so she will always make sure to give you her advice based on your personal circumstances. In addition, she is of course always there to answer your questions via phone or e-mail during the process and she is always responsive to your needs, answering any concerns you may have. I never experienced any problem with my visa application through Jane. In fact, all three times went smoothly without any RFEs. I trust Jane entirely as my lawyer, and look forward to continue working with her.

> “The Japanese assistants working at her office made me feel at ease and I never experienced any language barrier.”

Kevin Cheah

Makeup Artist | Malaysia

Malaysian makeup artist, Kevin Cheah, had his three -year O-1 approved in 13 days using standard processing.

Working with Jane and June was a wonderful process, during a stressful time. They managed my case thoroughly, and assisted me with putting together all the right documentation. Because of their excellent service my case was approved by the government within 13 days, which was much faster then expected. I will gladly recommend their services to others.

Kodo Nishimura

Makeup Artist & Buddhist Monk | Japan

I am a makeup artist and also a buddhist monk. I obtained my O1 visa twice guided by Ms.Jane Orgel. I was introduced to her by mentor who is also a makeup artist, because she obtained her O1 visa with Ms.Jane may years ago. I visited her office first in 2013, and she was very honest with me, that I needed to build a stronger career. She suggested that I should be featured in Vogue magazines, and work with major cosmetic brands to ensure approval of O1 visa.

I was at the beginning of my career and I was overwhelmed that I was able to reach such prestigious level. However, thanks to her inspiration and encouragement, I was able to keep fighting.

Prior to my first O1 visa approval, I was featured in Vogue Korea, and have had worked with NYX Professional Makeup. Prior to my second approval, I was featured in Vogue Italia, and worked with Make Up For Ever. In 2019, I was cast and featured on Queer Eye, and gave speeches at Yale University and United Nations.

If not for her belief in me, I was not able to dream big and become who I am today. She is not only an excellent professional, but also, she paved my way with a vision. I am truly grateful that I am able to work globally while fulfilling my dreams. Thank you Ms.Jane and her team of brilliant experts.

Kun Wang

Painter | China

Kun Wang is a largely self-taught Chinese painter who is also disabled, having contracted polio as a child. However, he has not allowed his disability to interfere with his career. His work has been widely exhibited in both China and the United States and he is the recipient of multiple awards. Kun received his O-1 visa in February 2017.

Thank you so much for all your support over the months. Because of your professional services, I get the O-1 visa without a hitch. My family will go to the US next month, and I am truly grateful for all your help. Thank you!"

Kunhua Liu

Researcher & Translator | China

Chinese arts researcher and translator, Kunhua Liu, had her O-1 case approved in May 2020. Kunhua Lui used one of our agents as petitioner and is now authorized to work for different employers in her field. Kunhua's area of expertise, which we focused on in her O-1 application, is classical Chinese paintings and artefacts dating back to the 10th century. Ms. Liu holds a Master of Arts in History of Arts & Archeology from New York University. She filed a change of status from F-2 to O-1.

The preparation of my O-1 application materials is laborious and time-consuming. I am grateful to Jane and her paralegal Rongrong for guiding me through this process. They are very responsive and trustworthy. Apart from the job offers and recommendation letters that I had spent several months to collect, Jane suggested me to make a portfolio to elaborate the projects I worked on. The portfolio samples she showed me are magnificent and greatly inspired me in creating and perfecting my own portfolio. Jane paid a lot of attentions to details, even to the quality of printing papers. Thanks to her professionalism and strict checks on my materials, my application was approved, even though during the time of coronavirus, one and a half months after submission.

Kyoko Nakamaru

Hairstylist | Japan

We represent many hairstylists from Japan! We are very thankful for the opportunity to work with many of skilled, talented and top-notch hair stylists from all over the world!

Kyoko Nakamaru was one of our super talented hairstylist clients from Japan. She is now a self-employed hair stylist after we filed her agent case (a way to file O-1 visa for those who are free-lance artists) in December. She got her approval in just 4 weeks!

Jane supported me throughout the O-1 change of employer process. In just 4 weeks later, I received my approval notice. Especially her legal assistant Naoko was very quick with her responses and diligently took care of my case. I am very thankful for everything Jane and Jane's team did for my case. This is my third time with them and I never have to worry. Thank you so much!

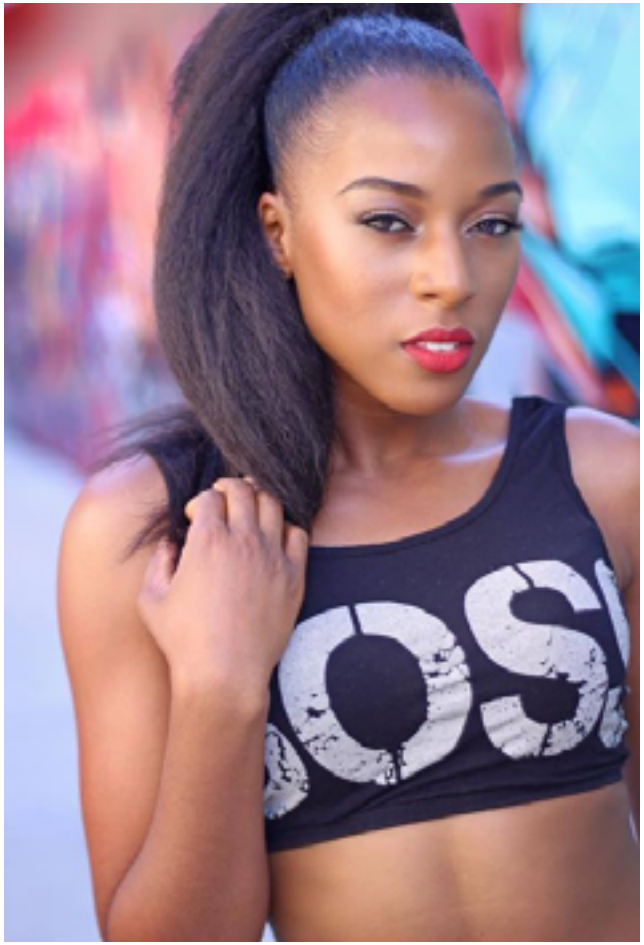

Latoya Webley

Hip-Hop Dancer | Canada

Canadian hip-hop dancer, Latoya Webley, just got an Approval for her Extraordinary Ability Green Card.

Jane is absolutely amazing! Jane has been handling consecutive O-1 applications for me since 2010 and I never once had a problem. I've had 3 O-1 visas approved over the last 10 years. This month my Extraordinary Ability Green Card case was approved! Getting a Green Card these days isn't easy for a dancer but Jane and her team took the time to work through my case and made sure my case was strong/secure for a positive outcome. Her office pays huge attention to the smallest detail and is always receptive to my questions. I never had to wait long to get a response via email or when I requested to do any phone calls.

If you are looking to get a visa or Green Card, I highly recommend going with Jane Orgel. Every visa Jane handled on my behalf has been approved and now my green card was approved. It takes a lot of hard work, patience and dedication to go through this process so aligning yourself with someone who is passionate, knowledgeable and experienced is key! Jane and her team are the people for the job, I wouldn't consider anyone else."

"It takes a lot of hard work, patience and dedication to go through this process so aligning yourself with someone who is passionate, knowledgeable and experienced is key!"

Lola Berry

Nutritionist & Yogi | Australia

Australian nutritionist and yogi, Lola Berry, had her Extraordinary Ability Green Card application approved in October 2018.

I have loved every second working with Jane. She worked so hard to make this dream come to life. Even when we faced a hurdle, she left no stone unturned to give my case every single chance it could have. She put my mind at ease and guided me through the whole process. I knew i was in the safest and most capable hands possible. I couldn't recommend her highly enough.

Manuel Bagorro

Classical Musician | Zimbabwe

A trained classical musician by profession, Manuel Bagorro has traversed the globe for almost 20 years, forming unique connections through his passion for the performing arts. In the process, he has brought together artists of disparate backgrounds, ethnicity, race and color at the global level.

Thousands who have previously had no opportunity to enjoy the performing arts, and thousands of others who may otherwise have had no chance to showcase their talents, have merged to enrich their future and culture through the festivals and performing arts events developed and coordinated by Manuel Bagorro. In the United States, Mr. Bagorro runs the Musical Connections program at New York's Carnegie Hall. The Lullaby Project, the latest addition to the Musical Connections program, has brought music into the lives of young pregnant women in prisons, homeless shelters and teen clinics.

Our office feels deeply honored to have had the opportunity to secure successive O-1 visas for Manuel Bagorro, starting in 2011 and continuing till now.

Jane Orgel has secured multiple O-1 visas for me over the last 9 years and it has been a great pleasure to collaborate with her and her team. She navigated the complexities and idiosyncrasies of my case while always being supportive and motivating. She made me feel like I had a champion and that was enormously reassuring while working through the process. She constantly asked questions and suggested approaches that would never have occurred to me, significantly strengthening my case, which resulted in consistently successful applications.

I am so grateful to Jane, not only for her stellar work on my case, but also for her encouragement, advice and friendship. I recommend her services constantly and feel very fortunate to have found such a consummate professional 9 years ago.

“I am so grateful to Jane, not only for her stellar work on my case, but also for her encouragement, advice and friendship.”

Marcio Garcia

Musician | Dominican Republic

Musician Marcio Garcia had his O-1 application approved in June 2018.

Working with Jane and her team was an incredible experience and I look forward to keep working with her moving forward. The level of professionalism, dedication, attentiveness and experience is why she is the best! From the first time we had a consultation, whatever potential questions I had, Jane was always available, prompt and honest with her feedback.

I am a jazz pianist from the Dominican Republic: I have a Bachelor's in Classical Piano Performance, Masters in Jazz Performance and an Artist Diploma in Jazz Performance. Like a strategist, Jane spotted right away vulnerabilities of my case I wouldn't have noticed otherwise if I attempted to do the O-1 application by myself and compiled all the necessary paperwork. Without premium processing, my application was approved in a little under a month.

I congratulate you, because if you're reading this you've found the best immigration attorney in NYC! I can't recommend Jane highly enough. Thank you so much.

Marcus Crawford Guy

Actor | Great Britain

In February 2016, Jane obtained an O-1B visa for Marcus Crawford Guy, a Scottish actor who had recently graduated from Juilliard.

Mr. Guy was the first Scottish male to ever attend and graduate from The Juilliard School in New York. We received an extremely challenging eight-page Request for Evidence ("RFE") from the Immigration Service. Over a period of two months, we worked relentlessly to respond to this RFE, point by point, and his visa was approved in February.

Jane worked tirelessly, crafting detailed arguments to overcome the objections raised by the Immigration Service. Every point she made was backed up by hard evidence that we collaborated on obtaining from experts in the field, via online research or other sources. No stone was left unturned. It was a difficult period in my life but ultimately we prevailed.

"Jane worked tirelessly, crafting detailed arguments to overcome the objections made by the Immigration Service."

Mariele Di Mauro

Dancer | Italy

I have been a loyal client of Jane Orgel since 2016. The most trusted, reliable, knowledged, experienced and up to date immigration lawyer of NYC. Thank you for everything Jane!

Marina Iwao

Pianist | Japan

Marina Iwao is a Japanese pianist who received her O-1 visa in September 2016. She applied for a change of status from her student visa (OPT).

Ms. Iwao has an undergraduate diploma in Piano Performance from Longy School of Music of Bard College, a Bachelor of Music from Emerson College and a Professional Studies Diploma in Piano from Mannes School of Music. In addition, she is the winner of the Bradshaw & Buono International Piano Competition as well as the 2009 Solo con Tutti Competition

After studying Classic Piano and finishing my degree, I applied for my OPT visa, which gave me many opportunities to perform professionally here in the U.S. As I was starting to feel that I have more job opportunities in the U.S., I attended an O-1 visa workshop; this is where I met Jane.

I first visited the office in January 2016. I didn't have any future plans then, and as I expected, she told me that "it's difficult to get the O-1 visa at this point." She, however, clearly advised in detail what was missing and how to build up my materials. I visited the office again in May once I compiled more materials. Since then Jane and the assistants handled my case very efficiently and we filed my case with only a one month and a half preparation. I really can't forget the moment when I saw my completed file – I was so happy and I am truly grateful.

Jane created many paths that I could follow to build up my case – this was really big for me. Only Jane, who thinks about each client and strategizes for each client differently, is able to accomplish such results. I was told that it will be difficult to switch from my student visa, but when I re-entered the U.S. on an O-1 visa, it felt special. If anyone is thinking of applying for an O-1 visa, I recommend with confidence Jane's services!

Matthew Ryan

Creative Director | Australia

Our Extraordinary Ability Green Card application for Creative Director Matthew Ryan, an Australian national, was approved in seven (7) days using the Premium Processing service. This was a self-petition requiring no employer. The case was received by USCIS on June 9, 2016 and approved on June 16, 2016.

Mr. Ryan has held positions throughout the world as Creative Director, Creative Lead, Senior Creative and Art Director for leading companies, including Google Crispin, Porter + Bogusky, and Leo Burnett in Sydney, Australia.

Jane was instrumental in the quick and efficient approval of my EB-1A. She was meticulous and honest in analyzing my case, pointed out missing materials, and was extremely helpful in helping me gather whatever was missing. Once she had all my materials in hand, Jane was able to turn around my case swiftly, and at the same time, make a strong argument for the approval of my case which came within a week of filing. I am very grateful to Jane for her proficiency.

Medhi Ghandyanloo

Street Artist | Iran

In January 2016, we obtained an O-1 visa for Iranian street artist, Medhi Ghandyanloo, He was sponsored by our client, Howard Griffin Gallery, which has galleries in LA and London.

Mei Han (Hazel) Chiu

Photographer | Taiwan

Mei Han (Hazel) Chiu, a photographer from Taiwan, received a 3 year O-1 visa in December 2019. Her case was an agent case as she is self-employed and works for different companies. Our office provided the agent. Hazel's case was filed on October 19 2019 and approved on December 12, 2019, with regular (non-expedite) processing.

Jane Orgel PC handled my case very efficiently, no detail was left unattended. Her office advised me on all the evidence I needed, including reference letters and employment agreements. They reviewed everything very carefully. She has staff who speak Chinese, Japanese and Korean and are really experts in these types of cases. Especially June Miyata was very critical to the swift approval of my case. I highly recommend this office.

See her work at www.hazelchiuphoto.com.

Meriem Sakrouhi

Architect | Morocco

Moroccan architect, Meriem Sakrouhi, landed her first real job after completing her Bachelor of Architecture at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Her case was filed on September 21 and approved on October 6, using standard processing.

As a junior architect, recent architecture graduate (2016) with no master's degree, after not getting the H1B lottery, the O1 visa seemed like getting blood from a stone. I did plenty of research on different law firms before hiring Jane.

What convinced me was her high success rate and the fact that she pays attention to customize the application to show up your strengths and abilities in the field you work - architecture in my case-. Many firms I contacted before her didn't even mention the need of an architecture portfolio, key to the O-1 success for a junior architect applicant like myself. Since the first meeting, she absolutely believed in me getting the visa, that I was an 'exotic' applicant and there was no way around it. She sis not say it was glib to be easy, in fact she insisted that it would take time and preparation but her confidence was contagious. The process was certainly long and laborious but it was absolutely worth it. Jane, Stephanie and the team were very careful with all the materials they prepared and reviewed.

And the long process along with the team's work paid off. I made the right decision choosing her firm to handle my case. Seriously, if you are reading this and still wondering if you should hire another firm, stop right there. Jane's Law Firm might take a bit longer than others but it is absolutely worth it. She got the blood out of that stone! Thank you so much.

"Since the first meeting, (Jane) absolutely believed in me getting the visa."

Miyuki Shimamoto

Visual Effect Artist | Japan

Japanese visual effect artist and digital compositor Miyuki Shimamoto recently receive her National Interest Waiver Green Card.

We have been handling her visas since obtaining her first O-1 in 2013. We obtained successive three year O-1 visas through agents for Miyuki until 2020. In March 2018, we filed a self-petition National Interest Waiver Green Card application for Miyuki, which was approved in August 2018. In August 2019, Miyuki received her physical Green Card.

The National Interest Waiver Green Card is available for those with Exceptional Ability in the Arts. No employer or sponsor is needed, therefore it is ideal for artists and others who are typically self-employed. Miyuki has been self–employed since obtaining her initial O-1. However, the O-1 visa still has some limitations, especially as you rise higher up the field.

Thank you again for all what you've done for my O-1 visas & green card. The idea that, with my green card, I now have an access to all the career opportunities I can have in US, brings me so much joy & some kind of sense of release at the same time.

Mona Zheng

Accountant | China

Chinese Accountant Mona Zheng, received her H1-B visa on August 11, 2017. Mona received an MBA in Accounting from Hofstra University Frank G. Zarb School of Business in New York in May 2016. An entertainment company decided to sponsor her H1-B and she did change of status from F-1 Visa (OPT) to H1-B. The case was submitted in April 2017 and approved in August 2017 without getting Request of Evidence (RFE).

In August 2016, after I graduated from Business School with my MBA degree, I got a job in NYC and my company was willing to sponsor my H1B visa. My colleague recommended Jane Orgel, who had applied her green card successfully many years ago. I contacted Jane and we talked about many details about my background.

During the whole process, Jane has been very professional and efficient, and her assistant on this case has been working very hard as well, she contacts us very frequently and keeps my company and I updated. 2017 is not an easy year for all the H1B candidates, however, Jane and her team made a huge success on my case because of their extraordinary professional experience, and great work ethic. Thank you very much!

Munjer Hashim

Architect | Bangladesh

Mr. Hashim is a national of Bangladesh who holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from the University of Houston in Texas. His O-1 agent case was filed in October 2017 and approved in January 2018.

Immigration in general is a very stressful obstacle that many people have to navigate. The need for a confident and caring immigration lawyer is crucial in making this journey a success. Many lawyers turn away cases just because they do not see the potential or fear the challenge. Jane does not back down from a challenge.

When I first met with her, she seemed excited and eager to get me my first O-1. She was able to see through the difficulties and provided catered solutions on how to improve the chances of success. During the initial meeting we strategized together like a team, this was extremely important to me as it put my mind at ease, it made me realize that I did not have to deal with this behemoth of an obstacle alone. She understood that my accomplishments and background can indeed lead to a successful visa despite being a complicated case. She provided care and straightforward advice throughout the process. Jane was extremely involved from the beginning to the end, answering a plethora of my questions quickly and professionally. She is honest and direct, which makes the process much more fluid. Her care and attention to detail made the process that much more rewarding.

After a long and difficult process, I received my first agent- based O-1 visa. Without the dedication and continued support of Jane and her team this would not have been possible. Now I can continue to pursue my dreams thanks to Jane and her team!

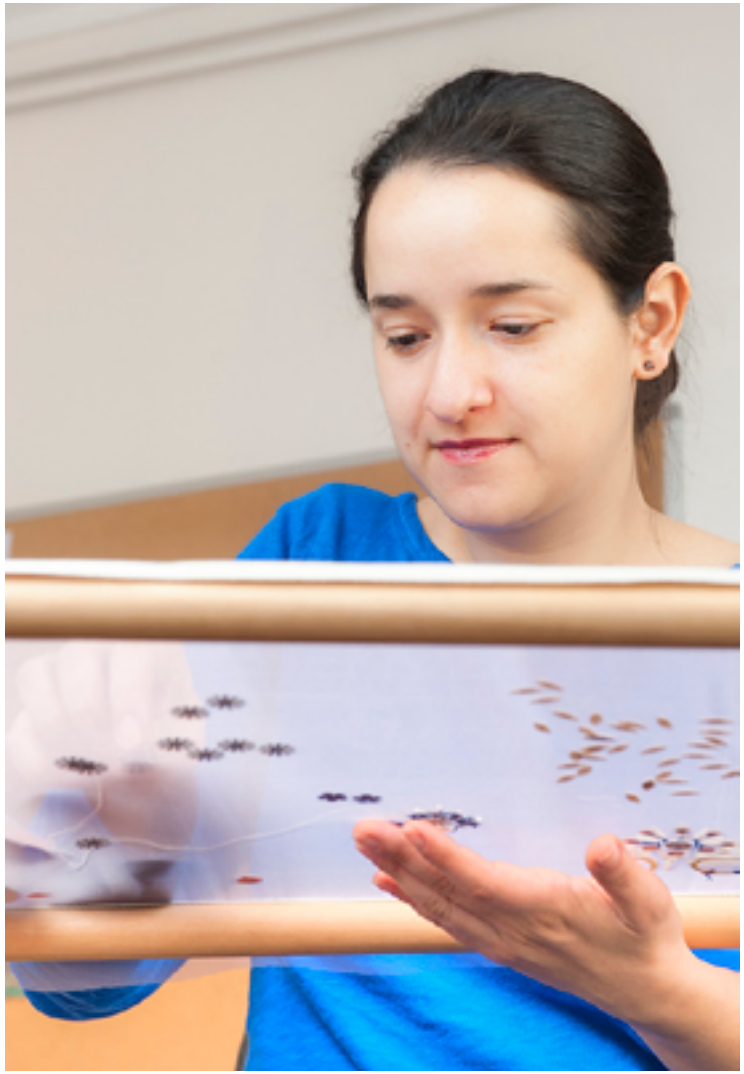

Nadia Albertini

Embroidery Designer | Mexico

In November 2015, our Extraordinary Ability Green Card case for Mexican Embroidery Designer, Nadia Albertini, who works for Tory Burch, was approved in about five (5) days. Although she had little press, we succeeded in documenting the rarity of embroidery and embellishment designers of this caliber in the fashion industry today and her excellent track record. This was supplemented by a very detailed portfolio.

This case was a self-petition, which is a special feature of the Extraordinary Ability Green Card classification, where the applicant does not need an employer to sponsor her.

Paolo Garcia

Motion Graphic Designer | Australia

Paolo Garcia received his Green Card in November 2019. Mr. Garcia chose to apply for two immigrant visa classifications at the same time – Extraordinary Ability and National Interest Waiver. These were both "self-petitions" since Mr. Garcia is self-employed. Both applications were approved!

I want to thank you for all the help and support you and your team has given me. It's really appreciated.

Paraskevi Karataidu

Hip-Hop Dancer | Greece

Greek hip-hop dancer, Paraskevi Karataidou, received her O-1 Visa Approval Notification on March 21, 2017. Her case was approved in 7 (seven) days with standard processing. This was an agent case as Paraskevi will be dancing in different productions. Although Paraskevi had little "hard" evidence of her achievements, we worked with her to prepare very detailed testimonials of her performing experience supported by extensive background information on the companies and groups she danced with.

"Thank you" and "appreciate you" aren't enough to express my feelings for your help. If it wasn't you and your team, Jane, I don't know if I could make it. You helped me doing the first and biggest step of my life. You helped me chasing my dreams...

Rafa Reyes

Performing Artist & Mexican Folk Dancer | Mexico

Mexican performing artist Rafa Reyes received an approval for his National Interest Waiver Green Card self-petition in October 2020. We submitted his application in February 2020. We have obtained O-1 visas for Rafa for the past eight years, usually through an agent, as he is self-employed. Under the National Interest Waiver Green Card classification, a person can self-petition so they do not need an employer to sponsor them. This is a very attractive option for artists and designers who often work for themselves. The National Interest Waiver is an excellent alternative to the Extraordinary Ability Green Card.

I met Jane in 2012 when I was looking to apply for an O1 visa. She reviewed my case and pointed at all the strengths that she immediately identified. Since our first meeting I felt confident that I was with the right attorney. I've gotten three O1 visas through her office and I am happy to continue to work with her team. I am excited that my NIW has been approved. Her team is great, very detail oriented and professional. They share Jane's commitment to the success of her clients. I am very grateful to my friend who referred me to her, and I am happy to share the great experience that has been working with Jane and her team. Thank you!

See more about Rafa's work at rafareyes.com.

Raman Bhardwaj

Illustrator, Animator & Painter | India

Indian illustrator, animator and painter, Raman Bhardwaj, received his O-1 visa in January 2018. Mr. Bhardwaj has many years of experience in the field in India.

I am an award winning artist and was working as a freelancer in India. At a point I felt the need to reach for better work opportunities and push my career further and I realised it could only happen if I work in US. I had a few regular clients in US and I wanted to go over there as an independent artist. A friend suggested me to look into O-1. I read about O-1 and sitting in India, it seemed unattainable even with my awards and lot of published work and news reviews under my belt.

I knew I needed someone professional to represent, googled and found Jane Orgel PC . I found them to be the most convincing law firm to represent my case since their track record of successful petitions was simply great. I was assured I was in good hands. Jane reviewed my profile and she had positive vibes. Over a couple of months she alongwith her team worked meticulously in guiding me in arranging all the vital documents required. Jane Orgel PC covered everything that was required to build up a solid petition. They asked me to gather particular material.

They found me my agent/petitioner too and procured authentic support letters with extensive research on all the facts. It is a lot of paper work to be done in filing an O-1 petition and one can easily get intimidated and confused. Jane and her team helped me whenever I had any confusion. They worked hard and were discerning, so nothing is missed and my petition was approved smoothly without a hitch. I can't imagine this happening without Jane's help and support.

Reijiro Kajiwara

DJ | Japan

As this was my first O-1 visa application, I had a lot of things that I didn't understand and worried about. However, Jane and her assistants helped me clearly and promptly so I was able to get an O-1 visa. Thank you very much for your help!

Ryoko Iwata

Blogger | Japan

Ryoko Iwata, a Japanese blogger, transitioned from H-1B to O-1B status in November 2015. Ryoko Iwata writes and illustrates the coffee website, Ilovecoffee.jp which was launched in June 2012, and has recently published her first book.

Samar Khurshid

Political Journalist | India

Indian political journalist, Samar Khurshid, had his first O-1 approved in July 2017 in seven (7) days via regular non-expedite processing. Samar filed for a change of status from F-1 to O-1. He received a master's degree in Magazine Journalism from New York University and is currently employed by Gotham Gazette in New York.

> "They patiently walked me through the confusing and intimidating immigration paperwork."

I'm a political journalist who moved to New York in 2013 for a Master's degree in journalism. When I realized my work authorization on my F-1 visa was going to expire, I reached out to a friend who was facing a similar situation. She referred me to Jane Orgel.

At first, I was worried that getting an O-1 visa might be near impossible given the requirements. But, Jane put my fears to rest at our first meeting. She gave me specific instructions on the materials I had to collect and her office helped me at every step of the way. They patiently walked me through the confusing, and intimidating, immigration paperwork. They were quick and responsive whenever I had any concerns and they diligently evaluated my application materials to make sure that I hadn't made any mistakes.

After sending in my completed application in mid-July, I received my visa in less than two weeks, allowing me to quickly return to work. I'm very glad to have retained Jane's services, and will likely do so again in the future."

Sang Hwa Lee

Architect | Korea

Korean Architect, Sang Hwa Lee, Founding Partner of Manifesto Architecture, had his O-1 visa petition approved in less than 15 days using the Premium Processing service. The case was received on March 8, 2016 and approved on March 21, 2016.

This wasn't my first time applying for an O-1B visa. In the past I had worked with a number of immigration consultants that varied widely in terms of level of service. After realizing I had no room for error when it came to my immigration status I set out to find the best service I could find.

Recommendations from numerous peers made it clear that Jane was widely considered to be one of the most reliable and professional attorneys in the industry. Through her professional assistance I was able to get my O-1B petition approved quickly and efficiently.

Saori Mitome

Costume Designer | Japan

Japanese costume designer, Saori Mitome, received her O-1 Approval in February 2017. This is an agent case, where Saori works as a self-employer designer.

I work as a costume designer for a wide variety of projects in LA. I work as a costume designer for films, gallery shows that require hand-made original designs for independent events, as well as working on my own project "Les Sewing Sisters" which is an art performance unit.

As a professional with numerous job titles, it is often the case that O-1 visa application is extremely difficult. With her expert knowledge together with years of experience, Jane was always able to assist me with the help of her Japanese assistants even when I was pressed for time. For example, one of the first steps in O-1 visa application is creating a portfolio. I was clueless as to what my focal point should be in terms of showing my work.

Jane was immensely helpful in kindly explaining how it should be made. Her advice was always on point. Because my case was on a very tight deadline, it was hard at times. But the end justifies the means, because my visa application was a success. I have been approved for a three- year period all thanks to Jane and her staff. I am very grateful for their support.

Satoshi Ikeda

Hairstylist | Japan

A hairstylist from Japan, Satoshi Ikeda's O-1 visa was approved within a month!

Jane Orgel P.C. processed the 3 year renewal of my O-1 visa very efficiently in May 2019. Her staff is very well trained and there are several fully bilingual Japanese paralegals to assist, including June Miyata.

Savita Bailur

Researcher/Consultant | India

Dr. Bailur's O-1A application as Researcher/Consultant was filed in March 2019 and approved in April 2019. Dr. Bailur, a native of India, received a PhD in Management Information Systems from the London School of Economics and works as a consultant and lecturer.

Jane was referred to us by my sister-in-law who had got her EB1 through Jane. My sister-in-law and her husband had said "she will tell you straight away if she thinks you are not eligible for an O1 – but if she takes it on, she has an extremely high success rate".

This proved to be excellent advice which kept us going in the tough months of collating all the evidence for the stringent requirements of the O1. It was a long process of getting all the documents together but once filed, it was approved within 4 weeks. Jane and her entire team were excellent and responsive throughout and I also appreciated that they did not add on extra hidden fees.

Shaojun Nie

Market Research Analyst | China

Chinese Market Research Analyst Shaojun Nie obtained her H-1B visa in September 2019. We prepared her initial petition as well as a response to RFE.

My major is marketing, and as everyone knows that it's really not easy to get H1B approval for this major student. But we did it!

She guided me through whole processes, and she always knew how to turn it around when we had to face hurdles. she just squared all things away so effectively & efficiently. I am very grateful to Jane for her amazing proficiency!

Shimpei Tanaka

Hairstylist | Japan

Japanese Hair Stylist Shimpei Tanaka had his O-1 extension approved in 3 days with standard processing. The Immigration Service received his case on August 3rd and it was approved on August 6th, 2020. Despite COVID-19, many of our artist clients have had their O-1 extensions approved in record time.

Lawyer Jane helped me with my first O-1 and extension petitions. I have consulted with other various lawyers before applying for this VISA, but Jane and her assistants were exceptionally accurate and responsive. The consultation with her for the first O-1 was very valuable, as it made clear to me exactly what was needed for the O-1 visa petition.

When I applied for the extension this time, her assistant, June, supported me, but the filing deadline was very tight. She responded very promptly regardless of whether it was Saturday, Sunday or night. I cannot thank her enough. If you are considering an O-1 visa application, I highly recommend that you first consult with Jane.

Shona Findlay

Curator | Singapore

Curator Shona Findlay from Singapore received her visa in March 2018.

Before choosing to work with Jane and her team I had been in contact with several other attorneys, all of whom said that I did not have a strong case for a successful O1 application. After a consultation with Jane, it was clear that she had a deep understanding of creative industries and that accomplishments come in different forms. This is rare and made me feel especially confident in my decision to work with her.

The preparation for an O1 petition is a long, stressful and emotional process but Jane, Stephanie and Patrick were always there to answer any questions within a few hours. Her high success rate was proven when my application was approved in 8 days. I'm incredibly grateful for their work on my case.

> "Jane, Stephanie and Patrick were always there to answer any questions within a few hours."

Siqi Yang

Architect | China

Chinese architect Siqi Yang had her first O-1 visa application approved in September 2017. Ms. Yang obtained her Master's degree in Advanced Architectural Design in May 2016 from Columbia University. Our office helped her change status from F-1 (OPT) to O-1.

This case was approved in six (6) days via regular non-expedite processing and without a Request for Evidence (RFE).

As a young architect who just graduated from school and was on opt status, I knew that my case was very challenging from the first beginning, since I didn't have a large amount of valuable materials as foundation for the case. However, I am glad that I found Jane after talking to my friends. The high success rate of this law firm gave me a lot of confidence.

Unlike the lawyers I consulted with before, Jane didn't lose confidence on my case during the consultation session. Instead, she assessed my materials thoroughly and advised possible ways to improve my background, including a detailed portfolio that presents my professional image. Jane is very professional and helpful. She helped me fasten the preparation process efficiently.

The whole application process for O-1 visa was not easy. But it was also a review process for my previous work and career. I was surprised and grateful that my application was approved extremely fast. Thanks for the help Jane and her team provided during my application!

"Unlike the lawyers I consulted with before, Jane didn't lose confidence on my case during the consultation session."

Spencer Beach

Educator | Canada

Spencer's O-1 case was received by the Immigration Service on November 6, 2017 and approved on November 15, 2017 with standard processing. He received a three- year visa.

I have been struggling with obtaining a US work visa for years. This journey had me try 2 different lawyers all of which recommended work visas I did not qualify for or were bothersome to use for regular crossing into the US. Jane not only gave me the best advice but her expertise resulted in a 3 years visa where now I have no more headaches or concerns.

Susan Ancillotti

Dance Manager & Talent Agent | Italy

Italian Dance Manager and Talent Agent, Susan Ancillotti, was engaged in a variety of activities in the fields of hip-hop and entertainment. She was managing, instructing, scouting talent, and running her own agency.

We did an agent case for Susan. Her case was filed on November 5, 2017 and approved on December 6, 2017, using standard processing. Susan had been told by several lawyers that she could not get an O-1.

When I approached Jane for my case I was pretty worried since I was coming from two visa refusals in the past 2 years and I was quite demotivated and scared to invest money again in this, but from the first Skype meeting I felt already that this time I had in front of me a person motivated to get the results like I was and my intuition was right. Jane and her associates were really patient and helpful with me, they replied all my questions and worries and they were very detailed in explaining me what to do for every step and advise me during the whole process.

I already advise her name to the artists that are looking for an O-1 visa because I think she is the best person for this and I will keep working with her even for my future visa renewals and green card. She definitely contributed to changing my life and making one of my biggest dreams comes true. I will be forever grateful.

> “(Jane) definitely contributed to changing my life and making one of my biggest dreams come true”

Tatsuya Otake

Jewelry & Accessories Designer | Japan

Creative Director Tatsuya Otake got a three year O-1 approval in September 2020. Tatsuya Otake is a jewelry and accessories designer and creative director of 8.6.4. Design (www.864design.com) based in New York. In November 2020, his National Interest Waiver Green Card application was also approved!

I'm so happy! Jane and her team were very responsive throughout the process and told me exactly what I needed. They are great experts in this area of immigration. I have total confidence in them.

Tomohiro Arakawa

Hair Stylist | Japan

Japanese hair stylist, Tomohiro Arakawa, had his second three- year O-1 visa approved in August 2017.

I met Jane about 6 years ago when I applied my first O-1 VISA. Since then, I have changed sponsor a couple of times and extended my O-1 VISA once. Every time it went smoothly even though my case was not so easy. She is a professional. If she says "yes" at a consultation, you can get a VISA with high probability. I have sent a lot of my friends to Jane and they all got their working VISA. Also her assistants always respond me nicely and quickly. Whenever I have a question about my status or my VISA, they offer me sound advice. If you are looking for a great lawyer, she is the one.

> "I have sent a lot of my friends to Jane and they all for their working visa."

Tsuyumi Kumazaki

TBC | TBC

Another very, very loyal client of Jane Orgel P.C! The handmade hat and winter accessories are designed by Tsuyumi Kumazaki, our wonderful client. She has obtained & been renewing her O-1 visa through us for the past 15 years! You can check out her incredible work here: tsuyumi.com

I've been coming to Jane for the past 15 years for my O-1 visa. Each time, Jane and her team incredibly make the process at ease for me. I am grateful for her and the team!

Yadan Luo

Landscape Architect | China

Chinese landscape architect, Yadan Luo, received his O-1 visa approval in August 2016 within 15 days using the Premium Processing service. He applied for a change of status from the student visa (OPT).

Applying O1 visa is absolutely an unmemorable journey in my life. The process is tough and the result is fabulous! However the most memorable part during the application is all the people that help me get through this challenge. Jane is absolutely one of the most important people and her help is irreplaceably significant!

Before the application, Jane was evaluated my resume precisely and give a positive feedback by her professional experience, which helped me and my employer built a basic confident for my case. At the beginning of my application, Jane provided a very precise material list based on my landscape architecture background. At the middle application stages, after I send her my rough material, Jane provide a long list comments, or let's say pressures, to push me out of my comfortable zone and challenging my weakest part. It is not an easy process but I really gained a lot, not only for the application, but also for my whole careers.

At the end of the application, Jane and her team went though all of my materials word by word, and generate a super convincing application package. I feel super lucky to have Jane's help during the O1 visa application. She is fantastic and I cannot get the visa without her help!

Yanghee Lee

Choreographer | Korea

Korean choreographer and dancer Yanghee (KJ) Lee has been our client since 2008, when we filed her first O-1 visa application. Since then, we have successfully filed 3 year renewals for her. In April 2019, her National Interest Waiver Green Card application was approved.

For 14 years of a long journey, Jane has always been with me. With her legal knowledge as well as her deep understanding of Asian culture gave me trust from the first time we met and I received my first O-1 visa in 2008 with Jane. To foreign artists like me, the hardest issue to survive in New York is definitely getting opportunity to get involved in the field. With Jane's help and guidance, I have developed my career for 14 years while I got 4 O-1 visas and NIW Green card. There is no doubt that she is my friend and huge supporter of my artist life.

Yeonji Lee

Sporano | Korea

Korean soprano, Yeonji Lee, received a Master of Music degree from Manhattan School of Music in 2016. In 2017, she was offered a role in a renowned opera and had to obtain her O-1 in a very short space of time. We were able to submit a persuasive O-1 application, which was approved. In July 2018, Ms. Lee obtained her second O-1 visa through our office, valid for three years.

This is my 2nd time working with Jane regarding O-1 visa. She is highly professional in immigration law and she is very hard working and reliable. Especially, O-1 Visa, is the field that has lots of grey area, and Jane effectively enlightened the path toward the approval twice without RFE. I recommend Jane without any hesitation who is seeking for a good O-1 Attorney.

Yixuan Wang

Architect | China

Chinese architect Yixuan Wang had her first O-1 visa application approved in September 2017. Ms. Wang obtained her Master's degree in Advanced Architectural Design in May 2016 from Columbia University.

Our office helped her change status from F-1 (OPT) to O-1. This case was approved in ten (10) days via regular non-expedite processing and without a Request for Evidence (RFE).

As a junior architect after graduation, applying for O1 visa is a difficult task. I am also under great pressure because I have only two months left before my OPT expire. So I consulted with many friends before I chose the office.

The content of the application materials submitted by different law offices can be various. I eventually found Jane Orgel after comparison. During the process of my application, I felt this is a very reliable agency based on its rich experience, perfect service and high success rate. The result proved my choice was right.

Jane gave me a preliminary judgement after knowing my condition. She told me that I will make a successful application based on my condition. At the same time, she also provided me with many resource and widen my thinking in terms of material preparation. Jane made a very detailed and specific plan based on my condition afterwards. The preparation process took a long time. The lawyer assistant who can speak Chinese helped me implement my plan step by step with great patience. Every unclear questions were efficiently solved during this process.

The process of applying for O1 visa was a long battle but everything was perfectly finished according to the schedule. Thanks so much for Jane and Stephanie, I really gained a lot from this process. The previous pressure was turned into efforts, and finally became a great memory.

Yongsu Choung

Architectural Designer | Korea

Korean architectural designer, Youngsu Choung, initially approached our office towards the end of his OPT period. Although he was at an early stage of his career, we worked hard to prepare his materials and his O-1 was approved in 2016. He recently received his second O-1 approval through our office and is now employed by Skidmore Owings & Merrill.

Visa is a must in order to work for professional positions in U.S., therefore it is always a sensitive issue to a foreigner like me. The first meeting with Jane gave me trust on her and she and her team helped to prepare for the case to meet my deadline in limited time. After getting my first O-1 visa, Jane also helped me when I moved to SOM New York in 2018 and I got approval only in 7 days. I can say she is the most professional attorney regarding O-1 visa and I highly recommend Jane and her team.

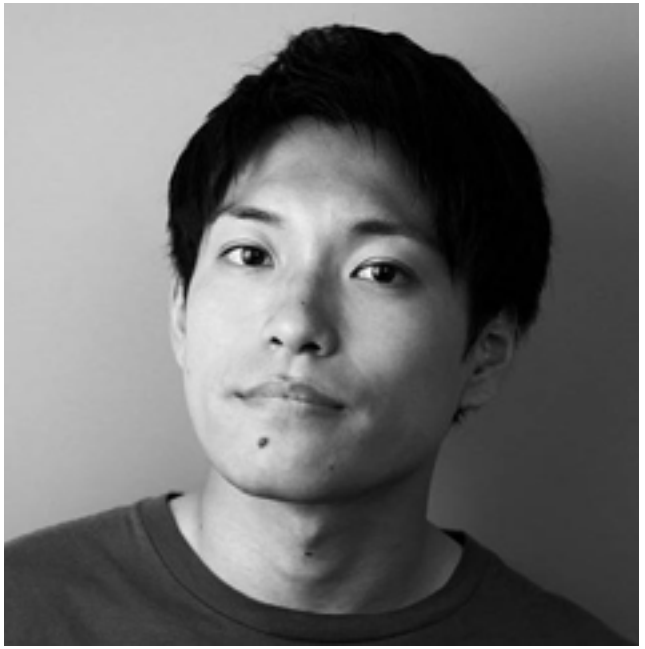

Yuya Yoshida

Graphic Designer | Japan

Japanese Graphic Designer Yuya Yoshida received his O-1 approval in August 2016. He applied for a change of status from his student visa (OPT).

I applied for a change of status from my OPT visa to the O-1 and I am sure my case was not easy. From the very first consultation, I was given detailed advice based on the attorney's long-running and successful experience. The assistants spoke my mother tongue so it was easy to communicate with them and prepare my case. It took a lot of time, but it went through smoothly without any request for additional evidence; I am really happy about that.

I am really grateful for Ms. Orgel's experienced decisions and the assistants that supported me throughout the process. Thank you so much.

"The assistants spoke my mother tongue so it was easy to communicate with them and prepare my case."
